Most of the familiar 8-sided school stop signs (top) will eventually be replaced by the rectangular "Stop When Pedestrians Are Crossing" signs (bottom) according to Police Lt. Arthur Walker. He said the new signs require motorists to stop only if pedestrians are crossing whereas the old signs required a complete stop even if no pedestrians were in sight. Walker said the new signs will speed up traffic movement. The new signs are now being used at 37th and Sheridan and 23rd and O. (Staff Photos)

Berlin Threat Dropped, Khrush Confirms

Agreement Made With President

Washington (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev publicly confirmed Tuesday his agreement with President Eisenhower that negotiations on the future of Berlin will be conducted without a time limit.

U.S. officials said this agreement ended the Soviet threat to West Berlin.

This is also the agreement which, so far as Eisenhower is concerned, cleared the road to a summit conference on Berlin and other cold war problems. Such a conference may be held late this year or early next year, possibly at Geneva.

The State Department reported to ambassadors of the other 14 North Atlantic Treaty nations Tuesday on the Khrushchev-Eisenhower talks which ended at Camp David, Md., Sunday afternoon.

French envoy Herve Alphand said he understood the Camp David agreement made no change whatever in the rights of the United States, Britain and France to keep their troops as a protection for the 2 1/2 million people of West Berlin, in the heart of Communist Germany.

The agreement did change the situation "the removal of the threat," Alphand said, adding: "Anyway we hope so."

His cautious afterthought reflected a mildly skeptical attitude among officials and diplomats here about the future of the Berlin situation, since the Eisenhower agreement rests entirely on good faith.

However, the dominant belief among top U.S. leaders is that Khrushchev definitely wants an easing of international tensions for reasons of his own, including economic expansion inside the Soviet Union. Therefore, they expect the agreement to be kept.

Jewett To Head GCEH Employers Sub-Committee

Gray R. Jewett of Lincoln Tuesday was named chairman of the 75-member Sub-Committee of Employers at a meeting of the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

Mrs. Roy Magill of Holdrege was named chairman of the Committee's statewide essay contest for public and parochial high school students.

Topic of this year's contest will be, "Jobs for the Handicapped; A Passport of Dignity."

Gov. Ralph Brooks addressed the morning session of the Committee.

Oh, My... Legwork Triumph Claimed

...Achin' Feet!

Ft. Campbell, Ky. (AP)—Five paratroopers have completed a 93.6 mile march in 37 hours — an unofficial Army record. "We've got 3 blisters to prove it," said Lt. Frederick Borneman of Downey, Calif., who led the volunteers from Camp Breckinridge back to the 101st Airborne Div. home base here.

In 1942, a group of paratroopers walked 90 miles from Atlanta to Ft. Benning, Ga. Borneman said he didn't know how long it took the other group "but I don't think anyone has topped us."

Tempting Offer

"Our last 10 miles were the hardest. Three girls in a convertible offered to give us a lift and it took a lot of will power to refuse."

Six men set out on the march, designed to test the foot mobility of the division. One was forced out after 60 miles.

During the trip, the men sang and talked "about everything from women to cool beer back to women."

Five foot 4 inch Pvt. Walter Parrott of Columbus, Ga., said he "had to walk twice as fast, it seemed to me."

But, said the 22-year-old soldier, "I was in a hurry to get back. It's payday tomorrow."

Births Outrun Deaths 4 To 1 In Lancaster

Births in Lancaster County exceeded deaths by a ratio of better than 4 to 1 one in 1958, according to information published in the annual report of the Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Department.

Of 4,586 babies born in 1958, 2,388 were males and 2,198 were females. Total deaths included 710 males and 517 females.

Diseases of the heart, including coronary and thrombosis were major causes of death. Cancer was second. Following in order were inter-cranial lesions of vascular origin; fetal deaths, pneumonia, motor vehicle accidents, all other accidents, congenital malformations, diabetes mellitus and nephritis.

Immunizations included: polio, 927; diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus, 265; diphtheria, tetanus, 76; smallpox, 132; diphtheria antitoxin, 3; and Asian flu, 316.

Headquarters Established For Lee Group

Davenport, Ia. (AP)—David K. Gottlieb, 45, business manager of the Davenport News-papers, Tuesday was named general manager of the Lee newspapers group, President Lee P. Loomis said.

Loomis also announced that effective Thursday headquarters for the group will be established here to coordinate the Lee administrative work and auditing procedures.

The Lee group consists of more than 30 companies, including newspapers, radio and television stations and printing plants, in six states, ranging from the Midwest to Montana.

Loomis said the new organization would not change the editorial independence of the various Lee group newspapers.

Gottlieb, an Ohio State University graduate in journalism and business administration, became business manager of the Davenport Newspapers in 1951. He is a director of the Iowa Daily Press Assn. and a member of the mechanical committee of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn.

Churchill Sees Break In Cold War

Woodford, England (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill told a cheering political meeting Tuesday night that suspicion and abuse between East and West may at last be ending.

The 84-year-old war leader referred to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's disarmament proposals presented at the U.N. in New York as a forward step, but added much remains to be done. Churchill declared:

"We must, above all, resist any temptation to rush into agreements which do not provide a workable system of inspection and control."

Britain's great old statesman was asking the people to send him back to the House of Commons in the Oct. 8 election.

He spoke in the heart of his constituency — one that has sent him to Parliament with big majorities for almost 35 years.

His asking for their votes was almost as superfluous as Queen Elizabeth II asking if she could wear her crown.

Churchill looked feeble, as he has for a long time. Yet he read a 2,300-word speech without glasses, and won a standing ovation.

He began shakily, but by the second page had warmed up. He read on like a younger man.

He was getting laughs and enjoying the speech.

Marshal Nabs Reformatory Escapee, 19

Oakland, Iowa (AP)—Night Marshal Dewey Goehring ran down one Nebraska reformatory fugitive Tuesday, but a second who was inside a tavern when the chase started, fled, presumably in a stolen car.

Nebraska Reformatory authorities identified the two fugitives as Billy Ray Howard, 19, Scottsbluff, Neb., and Richard Duane Lavender, 17, Settle, W.Va. They said the two were missed when a check was made at the license plate factory and it was presumed they had scaled the fence.

Fires Pistol
Several hours later Goehring spotted Howard outside Weg's tavern, owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Wegner of Oakland, and gave chase firing his pistol as he ran. After about a block, Howard halted and gave himself up. But Lavender, who was inside the tavern at the time, escaped.

Authorities said the pair took a car in Lincoln, drove to south Omaha, where they stole a pair of Douglas County license plates, and proceeded across the river, looked over several filling stations in the Council Bluffs area, but passed them up and went on to Oakland before attempting the breakin.

Reformatory records showed Howard was committed from Lincoln County for forgery and Lavender from Lancaster County for auto theft.

Centennial Corporation Chalks $8,193 In Black

... Money To Go To Local Organization

By Charles Beal
Some Lincoln community organization will be $8,193 richer by virtue of the disposal of that amount by the Lincoln Centennial Corporation.

The sum reflects the Corporation's net worth, and was announced at a Centennial Committee Workers' buffet at Lincoln Country Club Centennial Celebration Tuesday night.

In compliance with the Corporation's charter, any surplus funds are to be used in the community interest.

Corporation President James Ebel said the recipient of the money will be designated at the final meeting before the corporation is dissolved.

'Within Month'

This will be done "as soon as is practically possible," Ebel said. "My guess would be within a month," he added.

"This fine financial picture was obtained through the generosity of Lincoln firms and individuals, the diligent efforts of the hundreds of Centennial workers and the wonderful reception of the numerous events by the citizens of the Lincoln area," Ebel said.

Special thanks were given the Journal-Star Printing Company, Radio Stations KFOR, KLIN and KLMS, and KOLN-TV for the outstanding publicity and promotion given the Centennial effort.

A total of $144,929 in income was received by the Centennial Corporation during its existence between Nov. 1, 1957, and Sept. 24, 1959, according to the report by Dana F. Cole and Co., accountants.

Major items of income included Centennial Ball ticket sales, $25,366; Centennial Spectacular, $37,326; Centennial Coins, $15,918; and Centennial Book Subscriptions, $4,192.

Total expenses were $136,713. Major expense items were: ball, $19,580; management fees, $24,000; promotion expense, $20,321; Spectacular, $31,186; and Culture Day, $8,964.

Excess of income over expenses, minus liabilities, resulted in the net worth of $8,193, which will be received by the yet-to-be designated community organization.

Members of the Centennial Corporation, committee members and chairmen at the buffet each received a copy of "The Centennial Story," a report on celebration events.

Manslaughter Verdict Guilty

... Malnutrition Death

Bridgeport, Neb. (AP)—A district court jury Tuesday night found Mrs. Dorothy Engle of Broadwater guilty of manslaughter in the death of her 4-month-old son, Randy Joe. The boy died July 14. The state charged death was due to malnutrition.

Mrs. Engle's husband, Henry, 39, also is charged with manslaughter but has not yet come to trial.

Mrs. Engle's trial began last Thursday. The jury of 4 men and 8 women took 5 1/2 hours to reach a decision Tuesday.

Donald Nelson Is Dead

Production Genius Helped Whip Axis

Los Angeles (AP)—Death Tuesday ended the career of Donald M. Nelson, whose industrial know-how helped whip the Axis in World War II.

Nelson, 70, suffered a cerebral hemorrhage in a hospital where he had been under treatment more than a month. He suffered a similar stroke last month and was in a coma during much of his stay at Good Samaritan Hospital.

Last February the wartime production chief married Lena Peters, his fifth wife. Nelson's first stroke came Aug. 23 while the newlyweds were attending a party in their honor given by Mrs. Greta Peck, former wife of actor Gregory Peck.

Nelson was the No. 1 buyer in private industry prior to his government service. Born in Hannibal, Mo., the son of a locomotive engineer, he had risen from humble circumstances to become the top merchandizing executive of Sears, Roebuck & Co. The job paid $75,000 a year.

When the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor, President Franklin D. Roosevelt installed Nelson as chairman of the newly created War Production Board.

Nelson resigned from the WPB in the summer of 1944 and President Roosevelt named him as his personal representative to foreign governments, with cabinet status. He continued in that post under President Harry Truman until after VE day.

3 R's 'More Vital Than Ever' As Solid Foundation

The time has passed when the expression "The Three R's" and the word education were synonymous, State Education Commissioner Freeman Decker said Tuesday.

This does not imply, however, he said, that "The Three R's" are less important than formerly.

He said it is "more vital than ever" that today's youngsters receive a solid foundation in these areas.

In the education department's monthly bulletin, Decker discussed the second "R"—handwriting.

The overall goal of a school's handwriting program is to produce individuals who write with ease, legibility, and a reasonable degree of speed, Decker said.

"Keep in mind always," he continued, "if a student has something to say that he wants others to read, he will have a strong motivation to write it so that others can read it."

Well-Planned Program

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

City Engineer Carl Fisher, working in co-operation with the Police Department and City Planning Board, has presented what appears to be a sound program of street improvements to the City Council. Its major objective is to improve traffic flow in and out of Lincoln over now crowded and congested East O.

And this is not as simple a program as it might seem. For one thing, it is not simple from a financial point of view. The four-lane arterial called for will carry a price tag of $2.5 million. Maybe in this day and age, we shouldn't think of that as a lot of money but being a little old-fashioned, any seven-digit number has a tendency to deaden our comprehension. For one thing, it will take all the city's allotment of federal matching funds over the next three years. Thus, the project will run into 1962 before it is completed. This, possibly, might be one of the weak spots of the program.

It is not going to be convenient to have the street in a state of repair for three years. It may be that we have no alternative but that the City Council will want to make sure that the federal allotment cannot be upped to get the job done in two years. After all, politics and pressure have wrought stranger miracles than this.

If these federal funds could be hiked, it would not seem unreasonable to divert to the East O project a little more of the $450,000 a year now left over for other street improvements in the city. The other money, though, involves the kind of improvement that will be made in East O.

This calls to mind one of the things which always concerned the late Clark Jeary, mayor of Lincoln a few years ago. It is evident from Fisher's report that the East O improvement will be a first-rate job — plenty of left-turn lanes, eventually a center dividing strip and limited access. And with federal standards prevailing, the paving which is laid will have a long life expectancy. All of these things are good, but they are also expensive.

What the Council will want to do is to determine, through its engineers, how good a job could be done and how costly it would be without federal standards. There may be a possibility that an adequate facility, below federal standards, could be provided and still cost the city less even without the use of federal aid. This, of course, is strictly a possibility but one which the Council will want to dispose of.

Just as important in this program as the finances is the co-ordination of all improvements and it appears that this has been thoroughly considered in Fisher's report. Traffic studies and their projection into the future confirm the fact that both East O and the Northeast Diagonal improvements will be needed for Lincoln.

These studies also show that other improvements will be needed on parallel east-west streets to complement the East O work. But in the case of the diagonal, things are complicated by the uncertainty of its route. The diagonal must skirt the east side of the University of Nebraska campus and to do this runs the facility into expensive industrial property which would need to be acquired for right-of-way.

While this tends to favor East O in priority, it unfortunately does nothing to push the diagonal along.

That is no criticism of the report by Fisher but it should constitute notice to the City Council that more work needs to be done to get diagonal planning moving. But so long as both facilities are justified by traffic counts and forecasts, the diagonal offers no reason for delay of the East O improvement. The same thing is true of prospective plans for improving such streets as Vine, Holdrege, Randolph and A. The traffic surveys show that all these improvements, including East O, are complementary to one another.

Thus, there could hardly be any waste of funds in the city's plans. All that will remain is a factual determination of paving widths on the secondary east-west streets. The program is one which merits the confidence and support of the public along with decisiveness from the City Council.

ing temperatures extends surgical time to as much as three hours without noticeable post-operative damage. To the layman it is a practice similar to producing hibernation in which the heart tissues take adequate nourishment from a minimum amount of oxygen and food.

What does it all add up to? First, a confusing pattern to the uninformed layman; second, another milestone in medical conquest of something that was once incurable. But third, and most important, it is a great comfort to the afflicted who appreciate the fact that dedicated specialists are laboring every day in the year with noteworthy progress toward cures that were considered impossible but a short time ago. Nothing is better news to the individual than to learn that his incurable condition is suddenly curable. That is the great deliverance.

nificant variants. One is that Mr. Eisenhower will no longer be running and it is inconceivable that any of the visible prospective candidates can come within rock throwing distance of his great personal popularity, Korea or no Korea, war or no war.

Another fact is that the villain in the recent cold war phase was not President Truman and the Democratic party, but rather Republican brinkmanship policies under the late Secretary John Foster Dulles. The recent shift in Republican statecraft is therefore away from its own past.

A third fact is becoming increasingly evident. It is that the peace crusade was initiated by Russia's Khrushchev whose maneuvering started with his Berlin crisis winding up with him touring the United States which he used as a podium to define the sort of peace we are now preparing to consider.

So despite the compelling lure of peace and co-existence it is going to take a good deal of doing to bring the Republican party through all this as a knight in shining armor.

sideration of population shifts due to growth, annexations, etc.

The significant thing to consider in this is whether it will provide Lincoln with better government than we have today. It is our opinion that it will not but this is something for each voter to decide for himself. There is no question that it will provide more equality of representation. It should, if approved, do away with the predominance in city affairs of a rather select group of people.

This predominance has not been a healthy thing because it resulted in preferential treatment for certain interests and tended to destroy the confidence of many people in their government. This latter came about sometimes with justification and many times without justification.

But in the final analysis, Lincoln has had a progressive and efficient government — managed with as much equality for all sections of the city as is probably possible to obtain. What would we likely have by way of improvement with district representation? For one thing, the over-all caliber of candidates would be likely to slip as we would be getting, not the best from all the city, but the best within limited pockets of the city.

Secondly, the district plan is still the old ward system, regardless of what its backers claim for it. It is not as detailed as the ward system but has all the potential for abuse which the ward system carried. It is much more likely to produce selfish bickering and petty politicking than the present system. What we have is not perfect but what we might substitute with this change is even less so and no perfect form of government has yet been devised.

Italy's Premier Visiting In U.S.

WASHINGTON — The toughest job in the world is for a country cousin to be house guest after the visit of a glamor-puss. That's the position in which the premier of Italy, Antonio Segni, finds himself today.

Segni is visiting the United States as an old friend who has been here before, as an ally who is tried and trusted, and he comes just two days after the White House has been wooing the most headlined and uncertain personage in the world.

Yet despite the fact that Premier Segni is almost a "cousin" of the United States, the Communist party in Italy, second largest Communist group in the world, will be watching this visit even more intently than that of Nikita Khrushchev. For, if the United States pays scant attention to Segni, Italian communists will raise the cry: "The Christian Democratic party doesn't count any more in the U.S.A." And the slender, minority position by which the Christian Democrats hang on to power in Italy may be upset.

It also happens that Premier Segni has stuck his neck out a long and dangerous distance for us. He was minister of defense last year when the question arose of putting U.S. missile bases on Italian soil. He decided with practically no hesitation for the bases. There has been a storm of Communist opposition ever since. France has ducked out on missile bases.

So have Norway and Denmark. England is the only country besides Italy that has stood firm.

Segni, however, is the type of individual who has got accustomed to sticking his neck out. He did so on an equally controversial domestic issue — division of the land. The premier has spent most of his life as a farmer and as a professor. When Mussolini's fascist regime was overthrown and the first democratic administration was set up in Italy, Segni was made undersecretary of agriculture, later became minister of agriculture and as such hammered out the agrarian reform law.

This was one of the toughest jobs faced by the Italian government. The church held vast areas in southern Italy, and Segni, a staunch Catholic and leader in the Catholic youth movement, drafted and enforced a law which took over and divided up much of those lands. New agrarian communities are dotted all over southern Italy as a result.

The future of these older Italian democrats who bucked Mussolini and stepped in to lead Italy so firmly in the difficult post-war years is partly at stake in the present Segni-Pella visit. Their margin in the Italian parliament has been slipping. That's why the Italian communist party will be especially watching the reception Eisenhower gives the premier of Italy.

Dulles Policies In Wastebasket

WASHINGTON — The Eisenhower-Khrushchev confrontation must be judged as an end in itself. Both heads of state have specifically disclaimed any negotiation of substantive differences between the East and West. A summit meeting is in doubt and the President has postponed his own mission to Moscow until spring.

Yet both leaders say they are satisfied, and while public reaction is mixed here, people generally have accepted the idea that such contacts are worth trying.

Any release of tension promises at least the hope that serious negotiations can begin. They could not begin in the climate of the first six years of the Eisenhower administration while Senator Joseph McCarthy rose and fell, while Republican partisanship in foreign policy remained strong and bitter.

Nor could any observers of the Khrushchev travels discover any place where the late John Foster Dulles would have fitted naturally into the background of the Soviet premier. It was hard enough for most of the Americans directly concerned to take it in stride.

The truth is that the White House and State Department have taken a 180-degree turn away from their recent past. It is equally obvious that they are not, and could not be, ready with policies, plans and even the new language for actual negotiations of such enduring significance as are now in prospect.

Their old collection is rapidly becoming obsolete. The administration's famous slogans, in particular, have hit time's wastebaskets. It is not even clear where the substitutes will come from.

The administrative deterioration of the State Department under the Dulles one-man rule was glaringly apparent on the Khrushchev journey. The department is not wholly devoid of talent or dedication, but it is not encouraged to explore, create or take responsibility. Now it is out of the habit and it will not be easy to change that state of mind among people who have been devoting themselves to survival.

There is every indication that a new day has arrived with Secretary Christian Herter. The battered foreign service, which furnished McCarthy's principal victims, now knows that the secretary wants and needs it. It can depend on him to fight its battles with the Congress, which has liking and respect for him.

A striking symbol of the altered climate was noted by reporters on tour with Khrushchev. In the newspapers en route, they found headlines on the story that Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, who served Presidents Roosevelt and Truman as a Russian expert, would return soon to act in the same capacity for Herter.

Peace Gives GOP Campaign Plank

WASHINGTON — As the Russian tornado flared across the countryside there were practical souls who thought of its effect not in terms of summit conferences and other high-level matters but on what it would mean in the election next year.

The Democrats at the working level read the signs as forecasting a "not her" "peace and prosperity" campaign by the Republicans. And the prospect fills them with something like dismay. Eisenhower's great coup in 1952 was to promise to go to Korea to try to find a way to end the war there. In '56 in the wake of the Geneva summit meeting he soared high on the theme of peace and prosperity.

A big question is whether this issue can do for another Republican — say Vice-President Nixon or Governor Rockefeller — what it did for Eisenhower, the hero who in the public's eye had won the war. A tentative answer is to be found in the polls, which have shown both the vice-president and the governor of New York moving up when pitted against Democratic front runners.

An answer of sorts is to be seen, too, in the sampling of opinion taken by Dr. Gallup at the end of Khrushchev's tour and just before the Camp David talks began. Of those asked, 52 percent thought the tour had been a good thing and 29 percent were neutral or had no opinion. Surprisingly enough, only 19 percent thought it a bad thing.

Seen from the Republican viewpoint, the timing for next year is almost perfect. Reporting to the rally that welcomed him back, Premier Khrushchev told his people that the President would visit Russia in late May or June. Short of some grave alteration in the present scene, that visit will be a triumph.

It will be the big news of the early summer, coming on the eve of the Democratic convention in Los Angeles in July. How better could the Republicans ratify their claim to be the peace party? In all probability a summit conference will have occurred prior to the Moscow visit and at that session the stage will be set for a later heads-of-government meeting.

The claim that Prime Minister Macmillan is advancing in his current campaign for re-election can be made with equal validity by the Republican candidate next year. This will be particularly true if, as now seems likely, the candidate is Nixon. He can say, as Macmillan is saying, that by his trip to Russia he helped lay the base for everything that has happened since.

In all this there is nothing in the least mysterious. If given a choice between the possibility of peaceful negotiation, which has now been opened up by Eisenhower, and the continuation into an indefinite future of an arms race costing up to $50 billion a year with the chance of nuclear annihilation at the end, the American people will choose negotiation.

The weakness of the arguments against the Khrushchev visit and a relaxation of tensions is that they offered no alternative.

It was this that President Eisenhower in his own pragmatic way recognized. The decision to invite Khrushchev to America was certainly not an easy one. But the President took the decision and the visit went off, on the whole, better than anyone had any right to expect.

The skeptics and the cynics have said all along that the President's sole objective was to gain time until he should be out of the White House and his successor left to grapple with problems he was unable to solve. But even if they are proved right the timing still benefits the party in power in the executive branch. A Republican president took the risks and brought the Soviet leader to this country. That is the impressive fact which the opposition will find it difficult to challenge.

Other Visitors

Lincoln, Neb.

Now that Mr. Khrushchev has completed his visit to America, its impact and final effect upon our world is on everybody's mind. It must be conceded that he is a veritable volcano of human energy, intelligence and general ability. His poise and that of his wife under pressure were equal to the occasion. What a wonderful power for good they might be had they been cast in the mold that makes Americans! What successful politicians and statesmen they might be had they enjoyed the priceless birthright that is so common and so free under the Stars and Stripes! What a power for a change to better the world future their entertainment in Christian America may bring about as he returns to that vast nation over which he rules!

While the entertainment and safe conduct were no small amount of money and courteous behavior by our people, yet it must surely be counted a bargain price for all people. The unfortunate fact is that these Russian people or entire group were born and raised in a part of the world in which for ages past the individual person is nothing but a speck in a vast mass of people and remains as such unless their strength is such that they can overcome all competition. Thus they have no experience necessary to understand American life and government. This statement applies to all the world except a part of Europe, Australia, and the Americas. In America power and position come from the grassroots and leaders are very careful to court it. These Russians must eliminate and purge their opposition among the few strong people at the top of the aristocracy. They cannot conceive why a millionaire group assembled by Mr. Harriman in New York City to entertain them cannot simply dictate to labor and the general public. It was perhaps true or at least partly so until the great evolution of Henry Ford. Mr. Khrushchev showed this conception very plainly when he asked Mr. Eisenhower why he did not get rid of Mr. Nixon. Mr. Nixon after returning from his visit to Russia made a couple of speeches that offended Mr. Khrushchev. Naturally Mr. Eisenhower passed the joke along for a laugh to us all.

We may expect to entertain many more people of other nations who are curious to see what makes America tick and what they may gain by a better understanding of it. So we must set our house in perfect order to entertain. Our school integration program will perhaps bear improvement. Each one of us who claims to be possessed of the Christian spirit must become courteous and hospitable hosts. Even if we were touring a foreign nation and might be ignored or even abused, we are practicing our faith when we bestow love and kindness upon our guests. This practice may bring greater progress to the winning of the world to Christ's teaching than all the labors of our missionaries to foreign lands.

Our government has performed a wonderful task of entertaining and protecting these guests, in which we may all take great pride. Let us become still more helpful with the next visitor.

East Germany Presents New Problems

The cards are all stacked now for new trouble between the people of East Germany and their Communist rulers.

Although he specifically declined to put words into the Soviet Premier's mouth, President Eisenhower makes it pretty clear that Khrushchev has put off into the indefinite future any showdown over Berlin.

A year ago the premier was promising the East German regime that it would soon be given control over communications between the western powers and their occupation forces in Berlin.

He proposed to make Berlin a free city, cleared of western forces. This would have meant a Berlin isolated within East Germany, subject to pressures which would ultimately give the Communists control there.

The allies steadfastly refused to accept any such thing. They said, in effect, they would fight first.

Khrushchev soon began to back down. He just wanted, he said, to negotiate a new arrangement. The allies, he said, should realize that it is time for a peace treaty with East Germany, and recognize two German states until the situation permitted the Germans themselves to arrange unification.

The allies wouldn't go for that, but hopped on the negotiations idea. They began to talk, they have been talking ever since, and now the chief upshot of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev conferences is an agreement to continue talking.

When the allies adopted the talk-talk policy, it became evident that it would lead to a four-power summit conference, despite American, German and French reservations against British enthusiasm. Now that appears to be the next step.

This returns the Berlin problem and the whole German problem to the situation of a year ago — a serious situation, involving all of the forces which work to divide East and West, but not a critical one.

In the process, the East German regime's position was first inflated, even to the point where its representatives were admitted as observers at the Foreign Ministers Conference in Geneva. Now it has been deflated to the point where negotiations over its powers revert entirely to the Kremlin.

This makes it even more clear to the German people, East and West, just how the East German Communists are merely a market in the Soviet game.

East Germany has been getting some share of the general prosperity which is sweeping Europe. Pressures are different and less urgent than when its people once attempted open revolt.

But the government has been undercut, and because its authority has not been increased, it is now lessened. It will now have to adopt tactics to reassert itself, and so will widen its differences with a people who increasingly doubt its potency.

Building Fund Levy Hike Suggested For Schools

By Virgil Falloon
An increased building fund levy instead of a bond issue to meet school construction needs of $1.5 to $2 million during the next 5 years was suggested Tuesday to the Board of Education.

Dr. Steven N. Watkins, school superintendent, said school bond interest has risen to 4 and 4 1/2% as compared with the 1.8% interest being paid on Lincoln's current $16 million issue.

A bond issue "would be expensive," he noted in urging serious consideration of an increased levy for the building fund.

"It's a year away before the new levy, but it's an issue that will have to be faced," he added.

Approximately $1 million is left in the bond issue, but Dr. Watkins said $1.25 million would be needed to construct a new junior high school in southeast Lincoln to make more room in Southeast High School.

Re-Hiring Retired Teachers Okayed To Give Benefits Under State Laws

Re-employment of retired Lincoln school teachers and personnel so they can obtain emeritus status and entitlement to the new 35-year retirement annuity maximum was approved Tuesday by the Board of Education.

Under LB 410 passed by the 1959 Legislature, school personnel retiring before Sept. 28, 1959, do not receive credit for more than 30 years service unless they become emeritus members on or after that date.

but are precluded from the new retirement maximum unless granted emeritus status. He said such retired teacher and school personnel could be re-employed for one day at nominal pay in order to qualify them as emeritus members.

Based on an Attorney General's opinion and Nebraska School Employees Retirement System correspondence, he said the re-employment procedures could be handled by correspondence.

In this connection, Dr. Watkins urged that the Nebraska State Education Association should review teacher retirement facts and LB 410 before the next Legislature.

To come under the new 35-year maximum, which means an additional $7.50 ($1.50 per month for each year of service), retired school personnel must be re-employed by a Nebraska public school and receive Retirement Board approval for emeritus status.

Dr. Watkins estimated Lincoln has 300 retired teachers with over 30 years service, limit. In other action, the Board granted permission for the installation of civil defense warning sirens on Belmont School at 14th and Judson and Meadow Lane School at 74th and Vine.

Permission was requested by the Lincoln-Lancaster County Civil Defense committee, which said sirens were needed in these areas.

The General Electric Supply Co. was awarded a $997.75 contract for wire to be used for automatic fire detection equipment in the schools subject to meeting specifications.

Lincoln Public Schools Mark Enrollment Increase Of 1,225

Lincoln's public school enrollment was 23,428 at the end of the first week of school—an increase of 1,225 from comparable 1958-59 figures.

Supt. Steven N. Watkins said the 1959 totals were senior high, 3,691 compared with 3,470 last year; junior high, 4,750 compared with 4,255; and elementary, 14,987, compared with 14,478.

Appraisal Of State's Tax System Asked

... By Herrington

Grand Island, Neb. (P) — State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington asked the Nebraska State Assn. of Public Accountants Tuesday to conduct an appraisal of the state's tax system.

He asked them to make the survey to see if the statement "real estate carries too much of the load" is true.

Herrington said the association "would be making one of the greatest contributions to state government ever made to any state" by conducting the appraisal.

He told them to "forget about the sales or income tax, don't even consider either one of them in making this appraisal." The tax chief said if real estate is carrying too much of the load then something must be carrying too little.

During the luncheon address Herrington was also critical of some of the tax legislation passed by the recent legislature, especially the penalty clauses.

"I am not the champion of the taxpayer who has been cheating," he said. "But it seems to me that we have an obligation to stop penalizing for not doing something it is impossible for the taxpayer to do."

He warned that "it will not take the taxpayers long to discover that if they have made an innocent mistake it is better for them to keep quiet than to admit it—for the penalty is the same."

Herrington also took a jibe at Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, a frequent critic. He told the accountants that if nothing happens before Thursday night another month will have passed "in which I have not been fired by Carpenter."

At an afternoon meeting the association selected Omaha as the site for the 1960 annual meeting in September and elected officers.

Martin Elected

Named president was H. Wayne Martin of Scottsbluff. He succeeds P. P. Weston of Hastings.

Others elected included: Melvin B. Thomas of Omaha, first vice president; Harry Hartwig of Hastings, second vice president; C. W. Heisterman of Fremont, treasurer, and Allan Beyer of Scottsbluff, secretary.

Five directors were named. They are Matt Francis of Omaha, Robert Romans of York, T. F. Sundermeier of Grand Island, C. L. Ellis of North Platte and George Roe of Alliance.

Western Wheat Aided By Timely Rains

47% Corn Reaches Maturity; Soybean Harvest Time Nears

Rains in western Nebraska last week proved "highly beneficial" to fall seeded wheat and other crops, government farm observers reported Tuesday.

Southwest sections which had been critically dry got relief and wheat which was "dusted in" awaiting rain should sprout and develop well before entering the winter, according to the weekly crop report of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

60% Wheat Seeded

As of the weekend, about 60% of the wheat crop was seeded. Wet ground has stalled the planting in some counties.

The corn crop has made "fairly rapid" progress toward maturity in recent weeks, although it was slowed a bit by damp weather last week, the report said.

Nearly all of the crop has reached the dent stage and 47% as of Saturday was rated mature.

Harvest Delayed

Rains have held up both corn and milo harvest in scattered sections where the ingathering had started.

Other observations:

Silage cutting is near completion and some 4th cutting of alfalfa is under way.

The soybean harvest is expected to start as soon as fields dry.

Sugar beet factories will open early in October to handle the promising beet crop.

Rains revived pasture and ranges, and reduced fire danger.

Livestock are gaining well, a d egg and milk production rates are well above average for this time of year.

Precipitation throughout Nebraska during the past week included:

Sodomy Charges Filed Against Nebraska Citian

Nebraska City, Neb. (UPI) —A Nebraska City man was charged with two counts of sodomy in Otoe County Court here.

William J. Bolton confessed to parties with several teenage boys at his apartment, according to County Attorney Betty Peterson Sharp.

The charge was filed after 12 or more boys, ages ranging from 10-15, revealed their stories to authorities.

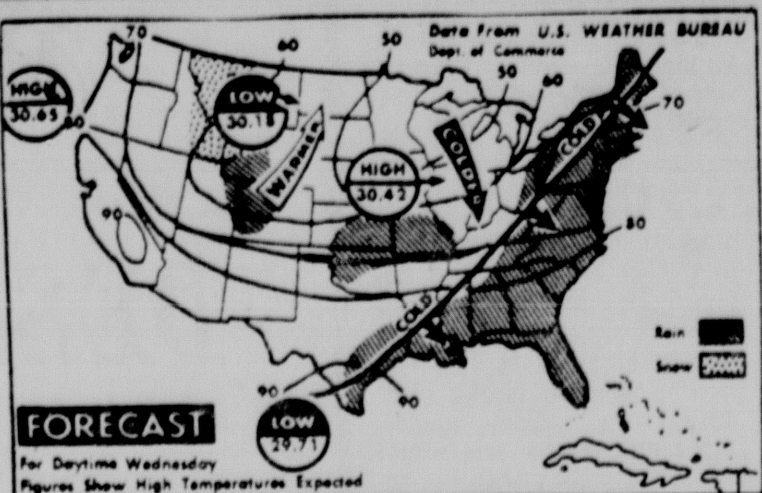

Mrs. Sharp said Bolton feined with boys in making model airplanes, giving them beer and a soft drink spiked with aspirin.

The alleged offenses apparently had been occurring since April when Bolton came to Nebraska City. He was formerly of Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Bertrand, Hampton Get Sewage Project Funds

Washington (P) —Two communities in Nebraska Tuesday received grants to help finance sewage disposal projects. The public health service announced the grants and project costs:

Bertrand, Neb., $8,739 and $33,997; Hampton, Neb., $8,418 and $97,460.

More Cold, Rainy Weather Expected

Widespread precipitation is forecast for Wednesday for the Atlantic states, central Appalachians and deep south from the Carolinas to eastern Texas. Sections of the central Mississippi Valley will also have rain while snow or snow flurries are in prospect for high elevations of north and central Rockies. It will be colder in the Great Lakes region southward to the Tennessee Valley, while it will be warmer in the northern Plains and northern Rockies. (AP Wire-photo Map)

Lake McConaughy's 'Buildup' On; '59 Irrigation Usage High

Holdrege, Neb. (UPI) —The annual buildup of irrigation and "kilowatt" water in the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District's Lake McConaughy began last week.

During the past irrigation season storage dropped 420,500 acre feet from last spring's high of 1,652,700.

The season's low of 1,220,000 acre feet on Sept. 23 was 11,900 less than last fall's low of 1,232,000.

The drop in storage water for the 1959 irrigation season was triple that of 1958 and more than double that in 1957 but was considerably less than any of the drought years of 1953-1956.

Lake McConaughy stores and regulates the water for 4 hydroelectric power plants with a total generating capacity of 80,000 kilowatts and for the irrigation of 120,000 acres of land under the Central Nebraska District's in the Tri-County area of Gosper, Phelps and Kearney Counties and approximately 130,000 acres watered by on-river irrigation districts in

NAD Disposal Delayed Until AF Decision

Washington (P) —Final disposal of the Hastings, Neb., Naval Ammunition Depot has been delayed pending a decision by the Air Force as to possible use of the facility as a defense industrial plant.

The Navy announced the closing down of the depot nearly two years ago and has since gradually reduced its activities there.

Recently, however, the Air Force expressed an interest in the plant and a spokesman said consideration is being given to taking it over.

The Air Force official said no final decision has been made and as yet no industry has been selected to use it. A determination is expected before the end of the year.

Nebraska Sailor Drowns in Hawaii

Grand Island, Neb. (P) —The Navy has informed Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Schweiger of Grand Island of the death by drowning in Hawaii of their son, Bernard, 22, a sailor. His body will be returned here.

Schweiger was a graduate of St. Mary's High School, where he played football and basketball. He enlisted in the Navy in August of 1957 and had been in Hawaii 18 months with the medical department.

Onetime Mayor At Ericson Dies

Ericson, Neb. — Funeral services for Ernest H. Hoese, 80, retired farmer active in county government, will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Methodist Church at Ericson.

Said to be the oldest living settler in Wheeler County, he came to the U.S. from Germany at the age of 5. He was a Wheeler County commissioner from 1946 to 1958, a former mayor of Ericson and a member of the board of regents of Wheeler County High School.

Surviving are his wife, Lillie; son, Harold of Ericson; daughters, Mrs. Marguerite Westcott of Ericson and Mrs. Edna Zuhke of Lincoln; 7 grandchildren and 4 great grandchildren.

Five cases of polio were reported in Nebraska last week, bringing the total for the year to 114, the State Health Department said Tuesday.

At this time a year ago, the state had recorded only 20 cases.

Three cases of rabies in animals were reported. They included a bat from Douglas County, a cat from Platte County and a cat from Morrill County.

The department has recorded 43 cases of rabies this year, compared with 26 at this time a year ago.

Stanton Delaplaine's POSTCARD

Breakfast on the balcony this bright Jamaica morning. Our balcony overlooks the sparkling blue of Montego Bay, with the roadside shaded by red-flowered flamboyant trees.

Though it rains in great tropic bursts every afternoon, the papers say we are having a fierce drought.

"De rain may wet de shimmy tail like-like dew-dew water but same time it dry up and we don't eben know sey it happen," said Information.

Mr. Information (that is his name really) runs a coconut shack across the street. He sells straw bags and straw hats to the tourists. At any price he thinks you will stand still for.

"Look in de mirror, my boss! Look at him in de mirror, sah! Best t'ing mek you happy when you arrive back in de States, my boss."

Every time I pass Information, he puts a straw hat on my head.

It is a snappy number with a band of Sea Island cotton. The band says "Happy Memories of Jamaica."

"I have no money on me, Information. Maybe next time."

Information falls back with a "stressful look pon he face."

"Who SAY anyt'ing 'bout de money, my boss? You take for free. Me gift to you, my boss."

He is hard to handle, that Information. I have a feeling I am going to wind up with several hats.

I have hired a guide. His name is Egbert. Egbert is about 14. Ragged, carefree, sleepy.

I pay him 50 cents a day. He is worth every penny of it.

I can hardly understand Information. I cannot understand Egbert at all. He speaks pure island patois. Generally English with a local accent. A few words from the Dutch islands and their papaminto. A word of two of Spanish. A touch of Haiti French.

So far all I have got out of Egbert is:

"Cheap rum drunk you bery quick, sah."

I don't know whether this was a piece of philosophy. Or whether Egbert was asking me to buy him a drink.

Egbert has a relaxed schedule working for me. He appears out of nowhere. When he appears at night it is rather startling.

Jamaica is 98 per cent pure black—there is a color line down here even though they say there is not; the line curiously falls between the jet black and the light brown.

Egbert is original stock. He is the shining black of a well-kept millionaire's limousine. He glows.

When he comes out of the street at night, his eyes are like a pair of headlights.

He comes out of the street in the tiny, juke box town of Montego Bay.

"Don't make de rain now, my boss."

Having passed on this useful information that it is not raining on me at the moment, Egbert fades back into the frame-store street.

He collects his pay in the afternoon. I think in the evening, therefore, he is a rich man. We meet as social equals.

The gentleman who runs the glass-bottom boat is Broadway Bill. Broadway Bill spends most of his life studying a road map of the U.S.

According to Broadway Bill, he used to live in the town you come from.

"You arrive from de California, sah? I know dat place BERY well, sah. I mek de home long-long time in de Pomona, in de Holl'wood, in de Sherman Oaks—all dose place, I mek de home.

"You like to sail wid me in de glass-bottom boat, I mek him de bery good price you, my boss. We two de California mahn."

Broadway Bill can do the same thing with Detroit. I heard him do it and he sounded good. He used to live in Belle Isle.

Case Of 'Trembling Floors' Is Closed

The State Building Commission Tuesday closed the case of the "trembling floors" in the Governor's mansion, but the trembling will apparently continue.

The action came after a report by Ted Balderson of the Leo A. Daly architectural firm of Omaha at a meeting in Gov. Ralph G. Brooks' office. The Daly firm was called in as consultants. The mansion was designed by Selmer Solheim, Lincoln architect.

Balderson said the cause is in the "spring constant of the bar joists supporting the concrete slab floors."

He said such construction is approved by national and other standards for use in all types of buildings, including residences.

No Structural Problems

He said the vibration was measured, with a device borrowed from an insurance company, for both walking and having a 170-pound man jump off a chair. There are no structural problems, and the floors are safe for walking and jumping, but the vibration came into the "troublesome range" in the jumping test even when there was a 6,000 pound load of concrete blocks on the floor.

A. Q. Schimmel of Lincoln, commission member, said the commission is not trying to lay the blame anywhere, as the type of construction was clear in the specifications which the state accepted.

Balderson said the only way to stop the trembling of the floors in the east wing would be to "change the spring constant of the bar joists supporting the concrete slab floors."

This could be done by tearing out the plaster of the ceilings, or tearing up the floors, and welding 3-inch metal bars onto the bottom part of the metal web joists to stiffen them. He said it would be a major project.

A foam rubber mat to ease the impact of walking on the floor would have to be at least two inches thick and not suitable for walking, he said.

A. Q. Schimmel of Lincoln, commission member, moved the report be filed, and the motion passed.

The trembling floors were caused by "faulty design," Gov. Brooks said.

The commission also voted to start a study of immediate and long-range needs of office space for state organizations to relieve crowded conditions in the Capitol.

James Delephant, superintendent of buildings and grounds, said the "critical problem" is to find space for laboratories now housed in the first floor of the Capitol.

Chevy sets the pace with lower prices in 1960!

Now Chevrolet lowers the cost of owning America's Number 1 value car. Prices have been reduced on every comparable V8 model in the line—on Biscaynes, Bel Airs, Impalas and Station Wagons. Prices are also lower on comparable 6-cylinder models equipped with Powerglide transmission and other popular options. And there are similar price reductions on Turboglide transmission, radios and heaters—literally dozens of ways to save money on a superlative '60 Chevrolet equipped the way you want it. A Bel Air V8 sedan equipped with Turboglide, a push-button radio and de luxe heater, for example, lists at $65.30 less for 1960*. And when you add all Chevy's '60 advances—the engineering ingenuity and styling elegance of these new cars—you've got the biggest value news in years. Come on in and see for yourself Oct. 2—the day the most beautiful bargain on four wheels goes on display at your Chevrolet dealer's!

Never before has a car with so many things you want been so easy to own.

For, with all the fresh, fine advances Chevrolet has come up with for '60, it has managed at the same time to roll back prices!

Get the good news firsthand when the superlative '60 Chevy goes on display at your dealer's this Friday, Oct. 2—or, better yet, stop in for all the advance information right now.

Once you see the way this new Chevrolet combines elegance and economy, you'll decide real quick there's no room in your life—or your budget—for any other make of car for '60.

Despite all that's new and different, you'll find every change very easy to understand. For there's just one reason for all of them, and that's—you. We had your taste, your comfort, and your pocketbook in mind when we built this one—and that holds true from this new Chevy's thrifty V8 engine right back to its handsome, easier-to-load luggage compartment.

Your first evidence of this will come with your first look at Chevrolet's fresh-shaped contours, fitted with craftsmanship you'd expect only in the so-called luxury class. And, if further ever-so-gentle persuasion is needed, just treat yourself to Chevy's quieter, more comfortable Full Coil ride, insulated now by thicker, newly designed body mounts.

Inside the solid-built new Body by Fisher you'll find superbly tailored fabrics and spacious elegance. There's room to sprawl in, room to sit tall in—with sofa-wide seats and a roofline that has respect for hats.

Thanks to the thoughtful way Chevrolet engineers have trimmed down the transmission tunnel, there's also more room for the man in the middle.

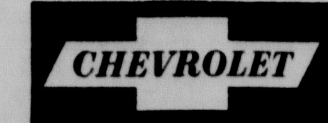

Quiet, quick-responding power is provided by a choice of two of the thriftiest engines going as standard equipment.

There's the famed Hi-Thrift 6, saving 12.6 in any full-size car, and a new Economy Turbo-Fire V8 that not only costs less to begin with but gets up to 10% more miles on a gallon of regular gas every mile you drive. And, to satisfy even the most finicky driving foot, you'll find a selection of five other V8's and five transmissions—a total of 24 power team combinations in all.

You'll also find some real stoppers in the brake department. Durable, bonded-lining Safety-Master brakes now designed to give you quicker, surer stops with less pedal pressure. There's also an easy-to-operate new parking brake that automatically returns to normal height after application.

We could go on, but your Chevrolet dealer's really the man to take up the story from here. And the happy ending will come when you see the surprisingly low price your '60 Chevy—equipped just the way you want it—now sells for!

*Based on manufacturer's suggested retail delivered prices.

Adequate Faculties, Facilities Chief Problems Facing State's Colleges, Universities

The Lincoln Star 9
Wednesday, Sept. 30, 1959

By Betty Person

The problems of obtaining sufficient faculties and adequate facilities in the face of booming enrollments were the chief problems expressed Tuesday by officials of Nebraska colleges and universities.

Heads of virtually all institutions of higher learning in Nebraska—public, private and church-related—appeared before the Legislative Council Study Committee on Higher Education to air their views on the state's present picture and future needs.

All agreed the legislative study could have beneficial results in developing broad policies to guide Nebraska's educational picture over the next 10 years, but there was some disparity of opinion on how the study should progress.

Some suggested the comprehensive survey should be conducted by Nebraskans rather than outsiders, while others expressed the view that an outside professional survey team would be more objective in its approach and recommendations.

The majority appeared in favor of using both a Nebraska study and an outside professional survey team working concurrently, and

5 Postgraduate Dentistry Courses Scheduled At NU

Five postgraduate courses in dentistry have been scheduled for the 1959-60 school year at the University of Nebraska.

The courses will be co-sponsored by the College of Dentistry and Extension Division.

The program is aimed at providing a "continuing education" for dentists, according to Dean Ralph L. Ireland of the College of Dentistry.

Some 4,500 applications have been sent to dentists throughout Nebraska and adjoining states. Adjacent states have been included because there are no dental colleges between the West Coast and Nebraska, the dean said.

Following are descriptions of the courses and when they will be offered:

Oral surgery, Nov. 12-14; preventive orthodontics, Dec. 10-11; periodontics, April 11-12; occlusal equilibration procedures, June 9-10; and partial dentures, July 28-29.

hopefully arriving at the same conclusions.

The Very Rev. Carl M. Reinert, president of Creighton University at Omaha, suggested this approach would give the legislative committee "two strong arms" on which to rely for its policy-making decisions.

'No Desire'

Dr. Milo T. Bail, president of Omaha University, said their institution, one of 6 municipal universities in the country, was the only one which "at this time has no desire to become a state-supported institution."

He said Omaha has no desire to go into other fields such as law and medicine, but prefers to leave these to such institutions as the University of Nebraska.

It was Dr. Bail's opinion the University of Nebraska should concentrate in the fields of agriculture, medicine, research and graduate studies, and leave the undergraduate work to other colleges.

Hardin Speaks

NU Chancellor Clifford Hardin said Nebraska "certainly needs facilities in the heavily populated areas of the state, at least junior colleges, to offer the opportunity to more young people for higher education."

This should be done, he said, "not on the basis of saving money, because I don't think we will, but to develop our most important resource—young people."

Dr. Allen P. Burkhardt, Norfolk Junior College president, disagreed with Hardin on the cost of junior college education stating they provided it at $300 per pupil which he believed was probably "considerably less" than the cost ratio at other institutions.

Credit Transfers

Areas of study needed in junior colleges, he said, include the "uniform transfer of credits" for junior college students (about 50%) who go on to higher institutions, and some state aid for the colleges which are now supported by the communities in which they are located.

"If there is a place for junior colleges in the state," Burkhardt said, "then they should be recognized by the state."

Dr. William A. Brandenburg, president of Wayne State Teachers College, said they had "no desire at Wayne to change the role of teachers colleges as defined by statute—and that is to train teachers."

He said staffing and facilities were the chief problems at most teachers colleges.

Actor's Mother Dies

Untold Of His Death

Canterbury, N.H. (UPI) — The mother of the late actor Tyrone Power died Tuesday without ever learning that her famed son had died nearly a year ago.

Mrs. Patia Power, 77, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Anne Hardenbergh.

Mrs. Hardenbergh said Mrs. Power had been too ill since the death of the actor last Nov. 15 to be told about it.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Picking, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge, the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

U.S. Broadcasts Still Unjammed

Washington (UPI) — Voice of America broadcasts are still going into Russia without interference, although Soviet Premier Khrushchev has gone home.

A spokesman for the Voice said President Eisenhower's press conference went through clearly and that so far as could be determined the Soviets have not resumed jamming of broadcasts beamed to the Soviet Union itself.

Broadcasts in the languages of the Russian satellite countries still are being jammed, however, he said.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

ASK—

Dorothy Draper

DEAR ABBY: What do you do when you find you have fallen out of love with your husband? We were very much in love when we got married nine years ago, but now it has all worn off. We have three children, ages 8, 6 and 5.

I have no grounds for divorce because he has never hit me or refused to support me. I just don't love him any more.

I am young and considered pretty and I don't see why I should spend the rest of my life with a man who doesn't appeal to me. Should I leave him while I am still young enough to find romance? Or should I wait until the children are on their own? WANTED ROMANCE

DEAR WANTING: It's too bad your mother never told you that marriage is not one endless honeymoon. If the "romance" has gone out of your marriage, it is as much your fault as it is your husband's. There are marriage counselors, doctors and good books to help put the zing back into your marriage. Preserve this marriage, Lady. It's probably the best one you'll ever have.

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy of 18. While I am asleep my mother goes through my wallet. I have nothing to hide and dislike this very much. I have caught her red-handed many times. She says she has a right to know what is going on in my life. Do you think this is right of her?

ANNOYED SON
DEAR SON: A boy of 18 is entitled top privacy. Your mother has no business in your wallet, but she IS your mother. So be careful how you tell her.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is in a sanitarium with a nervous breakdown. He tells the doctors and nurses that the reason he is there is because of me. He tells the other patients that I had him put in there so I could run around. This is not true! We have always gotten along fine together and I wouldn't look at another man.

I just hate to visit him because of what all those people at the hospital must think of me. Should I stay away or not? TALKED ABOUT

DEAR TALKED: Your husband is a sick man or he wouldn't be where he is. The doctors and nurses know that he is not responsible for the statements he makes, so don't worry about them. Continue to visit him. He needs your support and understanding more than ever now. Good luck!

DEAR ABBY: Four years ago, when I married Jim (not his real name), his sister, Mary, (not her real name) let me know that I was not welcome in their family. (My "crime" was being older than Jim.) Mary is the bossy sister and she runs his whole family.

Now, Mary's daughter (whom I haven't seen in four years) is being married. Mary telephoned me that "Aunties" were expected to give showers, and when am I going to give mine?

I don't care to give this bride a shower because I feel that I am being used. My husband says I should give one anyway. What do you say?

BETTY (not my real name)
DEAR BETTY: I say, if you give a shower, you are the biggest drip of all.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Front doors should say "Welcome." I once rented a house in Washington that was most unprepossessing outside, but after I had painted the door a cheerful yellow, placed big tubs of flowering shrubs at each side of the steps and hung a huge eagle knocker on the front door, my friends told me that they never had to look for the number—they knew that yellow door was mine!

Mrs. S.T.A. asks:
"We need to separate our kitchen and dining area. Is there any other scheme besides those box-like shelf room dividers?"

Dear Mrs. S.T.A.:
Going along with the current Oriental trend in decorating, a shoji screen would be smart. This is a frame to which is attached rice paper or other translucent material. It may stand by itself or be used, as the Japanese do, as a sliding partition. It may have three or more panels of wood used vertically and horizontally, so you have the effect of an attractive window, but with shapes silhouetted instead of being in sharp focus. Then there are bamboo screens or you can get two smart screens (be sure they are door height) from the department stores.

Mrs. M.B.M. asks:
"I notice that several of the magazines are showing fabric on the walls. I like the idea of fabric for one wall but how do you combine it with paint or wallpaper?"
Dear Mrs. M.B.M.:

You can combine anything of the right color but this is a very tricky thing to do. Fabric is difficult to clean and wallpaper is so much easier and cheaper to replace. Unless you have your heart set on it, I would advise using wallpaper.

Mrs. A. L. asks:
"I want a pink kitchen but my husband says it is impractical. He wants red. What do you think?"

Dear Mrs. A. L.:
I think you should compromise. Use a glazed finish for the pink paint which will make it washable and use red for accessories, such as cabinets, kitchen stools, etc. Use a carnation-pink and have your emphasis notes in red. In this way you will be happy with your pink and your husband will feel that he had something to say after all. As a matter of fact, with today's wonderful washable paints, almost any color is practical. But you should certainly see a sample of the pink on the wall before your painter goes ahead. Colors can look so different on a card or even in a paint. Better stand by on painting day!

Around The Town

—If everything seems quiet and serene at the moment, it only is the calm before the storm—There is a football week end coming up—several of them in fact, and from what we hear there are plans a-plenty—Let's take a look at mid-October, for instance—That particular period involves a particularly festive week end—the one of the Nebraska-Indiana game—Oct. 17.

—One of the pre-game affairs before the Oct. 17 pigskin fray is the brunch for which Mr. and Mrs. Jack Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jones will be hosts and hostesses — The invitations caused a ripple of excitement when they were received due to "The Upstairs" and 1516 N St., angles.

—And also planned for Saturday, Oct. 17, is the pre-game brunch for which Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pace will be host and hostess when they entertain at Hotel Cornhusker.

—Had a brief visit with some former Lincoln residents — Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Shire of San Diego, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Shire arrived late last week and have been kept on the hop, skip and jump with informal courtesies ever since their arrival.

The travelers stopped off in Lincoln en route home from Columbus, O., where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin W. Barkan and their family. They plan to leave on Friday to return to San Diego.

—Then we had news of other former Lincoln residents—Mr. and Mrs. Bennett T. Martin and their small daughter, Kathy, who are guests at the home of Mr. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett (Abe) Martin, until Sunday.

Just in case you didn't know — Mr. and Mrs. Martin and their small daughter, who left Lincoln for Phoenix, Ariz., have forsaken Phoenix for Denver where they will reside.

—We've talked about future activity, but we haven't ignored the calendar for this evening—It contains a dinner and miscellaneous show-er for which Mrs. J. S. North will be hostess in courtesy to Miss Nancy Hallam, Miss Hallam, as you know, has a December date for her marriage to Lyle Burk.

SUBURBIA

COUNTRY CLUB MANOR

Visiting in Lincoln this week are Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Knapp of Colorado Springs who are guests at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Ray Knapp.

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Entertaining at a "cook-out, eat-in" (due to climatic conditions) on Tuesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Jennings. Guests for the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Moore of Birmingham, Ala., and Mrs. Moore's mother, Mrs. Susan Jones of Lincoln.

The Moore couple are spending two weeks in town visiting with Mrs. Jones. Mrs. Moore is a recent graduate of the St. Elizabeth School of Nursing and Mr. Moore is a graduate of the University of Nebraska.

Mention of the Jennings family reminds us that Patty Jennings celebrated her fifth birthday on Sunday, and in honor of the occasion her parents entertained at a family party at home.

INDIAN VILLAGE

On our list of newcomers in Indian Village are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Hand

Winter Bride-Elect

MISS MARY DEE DeMARS

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Leo E. DeMars make announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Dee, to Joseph M. Downs, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Downs of Albuquerque, N. Mex.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, Jan. 16.

Miss DeMars is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority, and Gamma Alpha Chi, advertising honorary.

Mr. Downs was graduated from the University of New Mexico and is a member of Alpha Zeta, agriculture honorary. He now is doing graduate work at the University of Nebraska.

Food And Fashion

This week, American women have a chance to see a high-fashion Paris model in action.

Blonde, lovely Ghislaine (pronounced Gee-laine) Arsac is touring five cities — New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Dallas and San Francisco—to model original numbers from Gabrielle Chanel's fall collection. The tour is part of a celebration honoring the French designer in 110 stores across the country.

Adaptations of Chanel fashions, produced here by Andrew Arkin, also will be included in the shows.

For the trip, Miss Arsac brought 10 Chanel suits, four evening gowns, at least 20 pairs of shoes, and more than two handfuls of jewelry. "Enough clothes to cost $100 in overweight charges on the plane," she said in an interview.

The 28-year-old model, who stands five-feet., seven-inches tall and weighs 111 pounds, is far from the remote, gaunt, highly made-up mannequin one might expect. She wears little make-up, and is bubbly and casual.

"Chanel likes us to be natural, to be able to walk out on the street in our make-up as is—pale but not white. She can't stand too much black on the eyes," Miss Arsac said in an interview with just a trace of an accent.

She rarely diets, cuts her own hair, fishes, hunts, skis, rides horses, skates, golfs, swims and cooks.

How about sewing?
She smiled, went to the closet and thumbed through her evening dresses.

"Chanel . . . Chanel . . . Dior . . . this is ME—I made it," she said, pointing to a black dress.

A veteran of eight years in the business, Miss Arsac started modeling exclusively for Chanel two years ago after the designer selected her as a customer. She also models for fashion magazines, and through her work, has traveled to all parts of Europe, North Africa, the Near East, and South America. She has been on safari to Africa, and two years ago, she modeled in the United States while visiting a sister in Massapequa, N.Y.

Miss Arsac earns 10,000 francs an hour, or about $25 — the highest salary available to French models. She borrows clothes from the fashion house, buys new suits for about $200 (compared with $380 or $400 for customers) and, for $100, buys suits which have been in the collection a while.

Although her life is glamorous, it is hard work, she explained. She spends four months a year with Chanel — July and August, January and February. Her work starts one month before the opening of a collection.

"Chanel has no designs or sketches," Miss Arsac said. "She works with fabrics on live models—us. That's most tiring. Once I stood for two hours straight — in high heels!"

"There is no time for lunch, and not one thing is finished before the last day," she added.

"We would like to rest the day of the openings, but we have fittings. Mlle. Chanel is never satisfied—she says something always can be better. And she rips apart suits the day before we open. Every collection, I say I can't do it again!"

Children's Story Hour

Under the sponsorship of the Lincoln City Library, members of the Junior League of Lincoln are presenting a story hour for small children, ages three, four and five, each Wednesday morning at the South Street Branch Library.

The League members read stories which the children themselves are allowed to choose, and all children are welcome to attend from 10 o'clock to 10:30 o'clock.

KITCHEN PIN-UP

Hamburger-Onion Pie is a tantalizing and tasty new main dish, inexpensive to serve, easy to make—and as delicious as the Swiss dish it is modeled after!

The Swiss gave a unique touch to what could be a rather ordinary dish . . . they blended egg with cottage cheese and poured the mixture over seasoned hamburger in a biscuit shell. The egg-cheese mixture bakes to a golden brown, imparting a delicate flavor to the meat.

Try this delightful treat for lunch or dinner. It's sure to be a hit!

HAMBURGER-ONION PIE

1 cup biscuit mix
1/2 cup light cream
1 lb. ground beef
2 med. onions, sliced
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

1/2 teaspoon flavor extender
2 tablespoons biscuit mix
2 eggs
1 cup small curd cottage cheese

Mix well biscuit mix, cream. Knead 10 times on board lightly dusted with biscuit mix. Roll dough into a circle to fit 9" pan. Ease into pan; fork edges. Sauté beef, onions until meat has lost color. Add seasonings, biscuit mix. Spread in pan. Beat eggs slightly, blend with cottage cheese. Pour over meat. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake 30 minutes at 375 degrees. Cut into wedges, 6 to 8 servings.

PROGRAMS OF PTA UNITS

When the members of CLINTON PTA met on Tuesday evening to open the fall season of activities, the school's new principal, M. H. Walters, was honored.

The program, which was opened by Boy Scout troop 26, included a talk on safety by Lt. Melvin Dorn of the Lincoln Police, and songs by the Farminaires, a barber-shop quartet.

At the close of the evening, refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

Clubs

The members of the SIGMA ALPHA MU Mothers Club will entertain at a 1 o'clock dessert-luncheon on Thursday honoring the mothers of the new pledge class members. The affair will be held at the chapter house with Mrs. Harry Breslow and Mrs. N. E. Bernstein in charge of arrangements.

Club officers are Mrs. Bernstein, president; Mrs. Abe Cohen, secretary; Mrs. Abe Novicoff, treasurer; and Mrs. Harry Breslow, publicity.

The BOOKMARK CLUB will meet at the home of Miss Betty Wright at 7:45 o'clock on Thursday. During the evening, Mrs. Vida Hunter will review, "British Columbia Rides A Star," by Vera Kelsey.

The LOOKOUT Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Harley Slader, on Friday, and presenting the lesson was Mrs. Russell Parrot.

Elected as officers for the coming year were Mrs. Lester Thompson, president; Mrs. Ray Burcham, vice-president; Mrs. Wilbur Hasenplug, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Marvin Burcham, health; Mrs. W. F. Ludwig, civil defense; Mrs. Byron Perkins, reading; and Mrs. Harley Slader, music.

The next meeting of the group will be held on Oct. 16, at the home of Mrs. Wilber Spath.

Mrs. Franklin Furrer was hostess to the members of the EASTLINERS Extension Club recently when the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Dale Retzlaff; vice president, Mrs. Everett Maahs; secretary, Mrs. Paul May; treasurer, Mrs. Raymond Haack; reading leader, Mrs. Wayne Haack; civil defense, Mrs. Gervase Francke; publicity, Mrs. Furrer; music, Mrs. Orion May; and health, Mrs. Bob Nahovec.

Mrs. Kenneth Stickney was introduced as a new member of the club. Mrs. David Bize showed pictures taken at the Lincoln State Hospital, and the club members voted to "adopt" a ward for the year. The club also recently completed new curtains for the kitchen of LARC School.

The program included a 4-H cooking demonstration by Miss Diane Nahovec and a 4-H sewing demonstration by Miss Marleen Retzlaff.

On Oct. 4, the club and their husbands will hold a dinner at the Steak House.

Park PTA members entertained at a reception Tuesday evening at the school honoring the school's new principal, John Sipma, Mrs. Sipma and their family, and the new assistant principal, Miss Mary Andersen.

EVERETT PTA members opened the fall season with an open house at the school Monday evening. Mrs. Lawrence Beldin presided at a short meeting during which a report was given on the Nebraska meeting of the White House Conference on Youth.

Following introduction by faculty and PTA chairmen, the parents toured the classrooms.

Included among the chairmen for the year will be Mrs. Henry Sommers, Mrs. Harold Jones, hospitality; Mrs. Harold Deacon, Mrs. Lewis Taladay, Mrs. H. W. Woodford, membership; Mrs. S. J. Taylor, Miss Betty Pauly, Mrs. A. W. McCabe, program; Mrs. Otto Waters, publicity.

Other board members are Mrs. Lawrence Blum, safety; LeRoy Hansen, legislation; Mrs. Rheinhold Rebersdorf, Mrs. W. L. Hudson, Mrs. Henry Zieg, social; Mrs. Howard Anderson, health, juvenile protection; Mrs. Ralph Bothe, civil defense; Mrs. Willard Spilker, inspirational thought; Mrs. Phyllis Bell, recreation; Mrs. R. H. Scheidt, Mrs. W. P. Moore, room mothers.

At the Monday evening meeting of GARFIELD PTA, garden awards were presented to the following pupils for participating in the summer garden program: Michael Hill, Diane Lesoing, Janet Segasser, Steven and Lee Purbaugh, and Lelia Admire.

Following introduction of new members and faculty, plans were discussed for the adult education courses, and a film, "So This Is PTA", was shown. Miss Marilyn White, pianist, accompanied group singing.

Hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. Jack Helms and Mrs. Lawrence Lococo.

At the recent open house program of MEADOW LANE PTA, the following committee chairmen were introduced: hospitality, Mrs. Joel Wentz; health, Mrs. Earl Bartels; publicity, Mrs. Joe Ritter; finance, Dr. and Mrs. Neils Wodder, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Peterson; magazine, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Logan; library, Mrs. Harry Dederling, Mrs. Gene Hardy.

Other chairmen are Mrs. Charles Cade, membership; Mrs. Glen Starlin, adult education; Mrs. John Reta, safety and recreation; Mrs. Stanley Perry, PTA paper; Robert Fox, garden; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sollenberger, civil defense; Mr. and Mrs. Art Bauer, legislation; Mrs. Ralph Nelson, Mrs. A. B. Winter, council representatives.

Officers of MILLARD LEFFLER PTA met Tuesday evening at the school for a board meeting and to make plans for the fall season of activity.

The first regular meeting of the unit will be held Oct. 13.

Colored slides of the pupils' summer gardens were a highlight of the Tuesday afternoon meeting of BETHANY PTA at which time 60 garden certificates were presented to children who had participated in the garden program.

During the meeting, the following chairmen were introduced: Mrs. B. J. Leavitt, auditor; Mrs. David Mickey, Mrs. Mark Verplank, bulletin; Mrs. Al Kennedy, character education; Mrs. A. W. Remmenga, Mrs. William A. Schultz, finance; Mrs. Harlan Allan, Founders Day; Mrs. James C. Warner, Jr., health; Mrs. Charles W. Cramer, homemaking; Mrs.

Dwendell Goshorn, Mrs. Jerome Will, Mrs. Ernest McGill, Mrs. Raymond Jelinek, hospitality.

PENNANT TO DODGERS, 6-5

—St. Louis Decision Due Soon— Cards May Cut Omaha

Omaha (AP) — General Manager Bill Bergesch of the Omaha Cardinals said Tuesday the parent St. Louis Cardinal baseball organization is considering pulling its American Association team out of Omaha.

"There have been meetings in St. Louis on the question of operating in Omaha in 1960," Bergesch said. "But no decision will be reached for a couple of weeks."

The Omaha Cardinals were granted a one-year lease on the Municipal Stadium in 1959 with a one-year renewal option. The lease provided that the Cardinals exercise the option by August 1. Public property director Charles W. Warren said the date has passed and no renewal request has been made.

Mayor John Rosenblatt said he had been informed by Bergesch that the Cardinals are considering pulling out of Omaha. He commented: "If the Cardinals do not have enough ball players to operate at both Rochester and Omaha, maybe some other league club will be interested in coming here. I still think Omaha is one of the best baseball towns in the country."

Regular season attendance for Cardinals games in Omaha has shrunk from 316,012 in 1955 to 116,097 in 1959. Rosenblatt said minor league ball is "shattered" throughout the nation.

12th Inning Boot Earns Series Spot

...LA Faces Chisox Next

Los Angeles (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers won the National League pennant Tuesday and they won it the hard way. They whipped the Milwaukee Braves, 6-5, in the 12th inning after wiping out a seemingly hopeless 3-run deficit in the 9th.

It was the Dodgers' second victory in the best-of-3 playoffs with the Braves.

An infield single by veteran Carl Furillo and a throwing error by Felix Mantilla let in the winning run that broke up the tense 4 hour and 6 minute struggle and catapulted the Dodgers into the World Series with the Chicago White Sox opening Thursday in Chicago's Comiskey Park.

Trailing by 3 runs going to the 9th and shackled by Lew Burdette's pitching mastery, the Dodgers broke loose to chase him and tie the score in the bottom half of the inning.

Each team had the bases loaded in the 11th but it remained for the 12th inning to touch off a wild explosion by the disappointing crowd of 36,528 at the uncovered Coliseum.

Dark shadows covered the entire playing area and the lights were burning brightly as they moved to the last of the 12th, still locked at 5-5. Stan Williams, 6th Dodger pitcher, and Bob Rush, the 5th Milwaukee fliker, were chugging along as though they expected to stay all night.

2 Quick Outs

Wally Moon, the Dodgers' leadoff hitter, popped out to Bobby Avila and Williams, who threw 3 hitless and scoreless relief innings, fled out.

Gil Hodges, one of the Dodgers' old pros of previous World Series, took the count to 3-1 before he walked. Joe Pignatano, the second string catcher from the Dodgers' old Brooklyn home, singled sharply past Eddie Mathews into left field.

Now it was Furillo's turn. The 37-year-old outfielder, the only active Dodger who played in both of the club's previous playoff defeats, took a called strike. Then he looked at a ball. Then a foul back.

Furillo hit the next pitch sharply through the box toward second base. Mantilla, the second baseman who moved to shortstop when Johnny Logan was injured in the 7th, raced behind second to make a play. His hurried throw was low to first baseman Frank Torre and bounced away. Hodges who had held up at 3rd, raced home with the biggest run the Los Angeles club ever scored.

The entire Dodger bench mobbed Hodges as he came rolling home for it meant their 13th pennant — their first since moving from Brooklyn — and a chance at perhaps the richest World Series pot of all.

Tough Defeat

It was a cruel defeat for the Braves who appeared to have the game sewed up with a 5-2 lead and Burdette moving along smoothly going to the last of the 9th. To lose the pennant you were favored to win on an infield single and an error was the toughest blow of all.

But to the Dodgers this was a glorious Cinderella victory. They are the first club in National League history that ever moved from 7th place at the close of one season to win the pennant the next year.

The Dodgers also clinched the championship with the fewest victories of any other National League club, only 88

1959 Huskers (20)

Ron Meade

With veterans Harry Tolly and Tom Kramer on hand, Ron Meade hasn't had an opportunity to quarterback the Nebraska Cornhuskers in the first two games.

But the sophomore signal caller Canby, Minnesota already has made a name for himself — under the most difficult conditions.

When Nebraska scored against Minnesota the first time to make it 6-6, Meade successfully kicked the extra point — before 50,000 Minnesotans — which put the Huskers ahead to stay. He also kicked another PAT during the 32-12 rout.

Meade flashed promise on the 1958 Frosh squad, and he was an effective quarterback during the spring drills and fall camp. While he's slated for reserve duty this season, he could press for top consideration next year after Tolly and Kramer have departed.

The 18-year-old soph stands 6-0 and weighs 168.

Bums' Snider Turns Prophet

...Predicts 5 Straight Hits

Los Angeles (AP) — Off in a corner of the Dodger dressing room—beyond the dense noise and the spilled coke and the waving arms—Duke Snider sat in relative serenity, explaining how he became a prophet.

Not long before, he had predicted a near miracle, a remarkable recovery that made this remarkable team the champion of the National League.

The score was 5-2—the great advantage with Milwaukee—going into the bottom of the 9th. Snider was talking with teammate Wally Moon near the on-deck circle.

"I told him we were going to get 5 straight hits," Snider said. "And we got 4 scaffold as he pitched the biggest game of his life.

"I was just concentrating hard," he said. "I wasn't nervous. When I got in the game, I didn't feel the pressure at all. On the bench these last couple of weeks, the pressure has been driving me crazy."

"But today I knew I owed the club this win and I wanted to go out there and get it."

Alston Speechless

Walter Alston — the quiet man who managed this same club to a frustrating 7th-place finish last season — was understandably speechless when he walked into the dressing room.

When he finally did say something, it hardly amounted to an oration. "At the moment," he said, "I can't think of much to say."

"No season gave me more of a thrill than this," Alston said. "But those 3 games we won from San Francisco a couple of weekends ago were the big ones. That was the big push we needed."

"We were hanging in there, plugging close, all along. I knew we had to win 3 in a row at Frisco, and that was a big order."

Not Sure Of Flag

Snider, an oldtimer who has been with the Dodgers through triumph and tumble, said he wasn't at all sure about the pennant when the year began.

"I personally thought the ball club had a good chance to finish in the first division," he said. "Maybe 3rd, maybe second. And I thought everybody might have to have a good year to do that."

"It's not just one man who's done this. This is just a Cinderella year for us. We've been picking each other up."

"And we're liable to go through the World Series the same way."

Sox Pilot To Receive $50,000

Lopez Given New Pact

Chicago (UPI) — Al Lopez signed a 1960 contract to manage the Chicago White Sox Tuesday for the largest sum of money ever paid an individual by that organization.

Club president Bill Veeck, displaying the standard American League contract form blown up to a 6-by-10-foot size on a board, joked: "This is the largest contract ever given to anyone in the White Sox and it's much less than the gentleman in question is entitled to."

Veeck said that the contract was for one year only on the request of Lopez and added, "Al, you probably enjoy the fuss of a contract every fall."

Lopez acknowledged he requested only a one-year contract and said, "It's been a great year and I'm tickled to death to come back again."

Lopez will manage the White Sox next season for the 4th year. His 1959 pennant-winning club, which will enter the World Series this week, preserved his record of never managing a club to a finish worse than second place both in his minor league career at Indianapolis and in his previous major league stretch with the Cleveland Indians.

Veeck emphasized that the blown-up contract not only was the largest physically ever granted in baseball, but also that it called for "more money than the White Sox ever have paid a player or manager before."

It was likely the contract called for upwards of $50,000, a substantial increase over the amount paid Lopez this year.

"I deeply appreciate the job he has done this year," Veeck said. "It's the finest job ever done by a manager in baseball."

Williams Is Reported To Have Played Last Game

Clubhouse Boy's Firing Keys Retirement Talk

Boston (UPI)—Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox has played his last game and will announce his retirement this winter, it was indicated Tuesday.

Ted's retirement plans were made apparent when it was disclosed that the Red Sox had fired veteran clubhouse boy Johnny Orlando, who has been Williams' alter ego for 20 years and was with the Red Sox for 34 years.

Orlando was "let go" Monday by the club. It was almost certain he would have been retained if Williams planned to play another season.

Though the connection between Williams, one of the game's greatest hitters of all time, and Orlando, whose job was to manage the players' dressing room, may seem far-fetched to casual observers, sports writers close to the Red Sox considered the two men almost inseparable.

They felt it would be inconceivable of the Red Sox to fire Orlando while expecting Williams back for another season. As one Boston writer put it, "to dismiss Orlando before Williams was through would be a serious affront to the left fielder."

Orlando, who befriended the 41-year-old Williams when Ted was a brash, 19-year-old rookie at Sarasota, Fla., said the Red Sox "told me nothing" when they fired him. He had not made any future plans, he said, but planned to meet with Williams on Ted's return from a fishing trip.

Williams was far away from the baseball scene, having left almost the minute the season ended Sunday for his annual fall fishing trip in the Mirimachi section of New Brunswick, Canada.

Tempestuous Ted thus closed out a fabulous 20-year career Sunday on a typical note—getting a double and a single in 4 trips. But his final average for the year was only .254—almost 100 percentage points below his lifetime mark of .346.

Eagle Ace Gets Prep Star Tag

By Al Beebe

A dozen or so miles east of Lincoln is a fellow whom Lincoln coaches might wish were on their own ball clubs.

He's LaVane Johnson of Eagle, an 8-man unbeaten team. His speed and power on a 210-pound frame makes him a candidate for anybody's ball club, and prime material for all-state honors.

Johnson is The Star of the Week this week for his performance in Eagle's 51-0 rout of Malcolm last week.

Johnson scored 6 times on a pair of 70-yard kickoff returns and runs of 30, 30, 20 and 10 yards. He also passed for another 20-yard TD.

In but 11 carries, Johnson rushed for 254 yards—a 23.1 average.

Johnson and these other top stars from last week will receive cards from The Star.

Lincoln High—Sam Zollcoffer scored once and averaged more than 12 yards per carry in 38.6 min at North Platte.

Bridgeport—Cliff Houk, a 210-pound senior tackle, shifted to fullback and racked up 28 points in 34-19 thumping of Morrill.

Amherst—Ken Barth led offense and led game with interception in 35-27 victory over Astell.

Midweek Musings

Some lines will have the Nebraska Cornhuskers favored to beat Oregon State on the strength of their win over Minnesota, while others will go with the Beavers because they played Texas Tech so close (15-14.)

If by game time, the Huskers are the majority favorite, here's hoping Bill Jennings' youngsters keep one thing in mind: they're not going to beat anybody this year by tossing their helmets on the fields.

Scarlets have flashed promise in their first two games, and they've found out how much fun it is to win. But overconfidence can ruin them quicker than anything else at this stage.

Their victory at Minnesota was convincing, but it alone won't make a good season. The Huskers will have a tremendous battle on their hands every Saturday for the next 8 weeks. If they bear down and consider each game a challenge to prove they are a good club, they'll win some games.

If they think they're world beaters because they clobbered Minnesota, they're in for real trouble.

Yup Pete, You're Right

Quoting Pete Elliott, California coach, before the Iowa game: "We're over-rated!"

No one disputed that after Iowa laced the Bears, 42-12, Cal's flopperoo against the Hawkeyes was as much a stunner as the Oklahoma Sooners' collapse against Northwest-ern.

Here 'N There

Wouldn't you know it: Ambrose Alexander has tickets to the World Series. (But his heart won't be in it, with the New York Yankees out of it.) ... Most enjoyable part of the Nebraska win: seeing sports writers crowding around Harry Tolly and giving him the hero treatment. The senior NU quarterback has given 100% for 3 years, through good times and bad, and never a nicer fellow donned the Scarlet togs. ... Another note on the Gopher triumph: Clay White's 18 points ties him for 10th on the national major scoring list. ... Second guessing Pittsburgh manager Danny Murtaugh: Why did he stick with overweight Bob Friend instead of giving Bucco youngsters a chance when Friend couldn't beg, borrow or steal a win? Things weren't right at Pittsburgh this year, particularly in the pitching department. Ronnie Kline's recent blast speaks for itself: "This year I pitched a meager total of only about 180 innings. Yet in the last two years I've always worked at least 220 innings. The statistics speak for themselves. I think I could be of more use to any other team given the opportunity to pitch every 4th day or so."

Dodgers Win NL Flag, 6-5

counting the two playoff triumphs. It wasn't an American League mark, however, for the 1945 Detroit Tigers also won with 88.

Roger Craig (11-5), the Dodgers' hottest pitcher in the stretch drive, was due to work the 3rd playoff game if one was needed. Instead, he will open the World Series against the White Sox. His opponent probably will be 22-game winner Early Wynn.

With the Dodger triumph, the Series schedule now is set definitely. Two games in Chicago Thursday and Friday will be followed by one off day Saturday for travel. They will resume at Los Angeles Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, if necessary. If they have to play the 6th and 7th there will be another one-day travel before they resume at Comiskey Park.

This was almost a routine game for 8 innings. Burdette was in charge and the Braves appeared to have broken out of their week-long hitting slump. They had knocked out starter Don Drysdale in the 5th inning and continued to peck away at Johnny Podres and Chuck Churn.

Burdette, a fidgity workman who won 21 games for the Braves, suddenly weakened. Three straight singles by Wally Moon, Duke Snider and Hodges loaded the bases with nobody out in the 9th.

The tense situation touched off a furious duel of master minding between manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers and Fred Haney of the Braves.

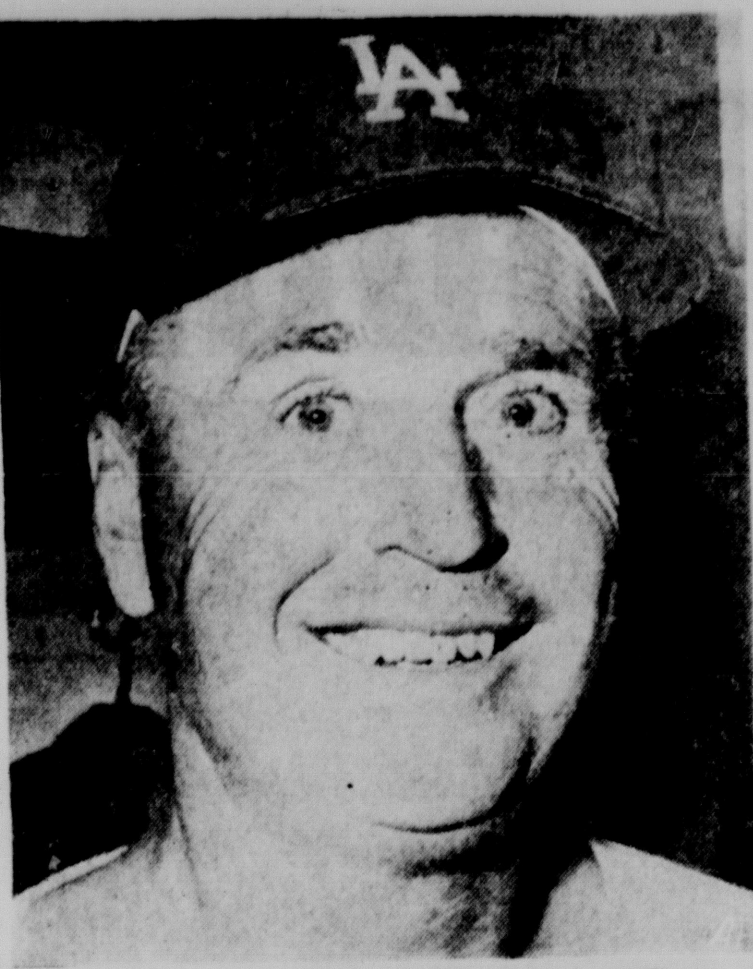

Haney made the first move by calling for Don McMahon, a right handed relief man, to face Norm Larker, a left handed batter. It didn't work for Larker lined a 1-1 pitch off the handy left field screen, only 251-feet away, scoring Moon and pinch runner Bobby Lillis.

Out came Haney again with the hook for McMahon who was making his 60th relief appearance. Haney wanted Warren Spahn, his 20-game winning veteran southpaw, who had an 0-5 record against the Dodgers. Spahn came on to pitch to Johnny Roseboro, a dangerous left handed batter.

Then Alston got into the act, sending up Furillo to bat for Roseboro. When Hank Aaron made a running catch of Furillo's sacrifice fly into the right field corner, Hodges tagged up and scored the tying run.

Maury Wills' single over second base was enough to convince Haney that Spahn, who pitched a tough game Saturday, was through. He brought on Joey Jay, a right hander.

No Joy In Sudsville As Mighty Braves Lose Out

Milwaukee (P) — The man tried gamely to keep his upper lip stiff enough to down a bit of the stuff that made Milwaukee famous.

But you could see that it was only a gallant masquerade to hide a broken heart and the aforesaid lip quivered as it met the foamy collar on his stein.

"So we lost the pennant," he said in a choked voice which he tried to make casual and carefree. "The Dodgers beat us in the 12th. Okay so we lost. That's nothin' to cry about."

He bent his neck forward for another gulp but the effort was too much. He straightened and wiped his eyes with a knuckle of his drinking hand.

"Caught cold in the 9th when somebody left the door open," he explained. "Makes my eyes water. Looks like we're gonna have an early frost."

Once more he devoted his attention to the stein and managed to down a good sized swallow before replacing the container on the bar and indulging in a fit of coughing which racked his shoulders mightily.

"Like I said," he continued after the spasm. "We got nothin' to cry about. It's just a game, ain't it? Sure. And we've had the series here for two straight years and that's enough for any town. We should share things in the good old American way and not try to hog everything like they do in some countries. Be good losers, I always say."

His shoulders shook again and he wiped his tears away with a somewhat damp handkerchief. When he spoke again his voice was husky and quavery.

"Sure wish I knew who kept the door open and gave me this cold. It always makes my eyes water and my voice sound strange. I could hardly see the television screen in that awful—I mean that decisive—12th when Mantilla threw wild to first and the winning run came over for those," he hesitated, "for those fighting Dodgers."

"Say," he said, "I just got thinkin'. Red Schoendienst should be back at second base next year and that'll fix up one of our troubles."

His eyes were clear with the vision of a new day as he pounded the bar. "Hey, Joe. Draw one for me and for my friend here. We gotta make plans for next season."

HANKS FINAL AVERAGE .355

New York (P)—Hank Aaron of Milwaukee won the 1959 National League batting championship with a .355 average. It was his second batting title. He won it with a .328 average in 1956.

Aaron, who paced the senior circuit batsmen from the opening week of the season, collected two hits in 4 official tries as the Braves bowed to Los Angeles in the second and final playoff game for the pennant. Aaron wound up with 223 hits and a 10 point lead over Joe Cunningham of St. Louis.

Eddie Mathews' 6th inning homer gave the Braves' 3rd baseman the home run championship with 46. He ended the regular season in a deadlock with Ernie Banks of Chicago. Banks captured the runs batted in crown with 143.

The American League batting title was taken by Detroit's Harvey Kuenn who hit .353.

Fullmer's Manager Lining Up 4 Bouts

New York (P) — Manager Marv Jensen is mapping out a series of 4 title fights for NBA middleweight champion Gene Fullmer. One of them would be a battle of champions with light heavyweight king Archie Moore in February in Miami or Los Angeles.

"Gene wants to be busy and cash in," said Jensen, of West Jordan, Utah. "I'm working on possible title defenses against the Joey Giardello-Dick Tiger winner; Gustav Scholz, the European middleweight champion from Germany; Archie Moore, and then Spider Webb next June or July.

"Of course, Gene would have to win his middleweight title fights to keep on going. But I'm very confident he will be able to do that. He's won 10 in a row and is in peak form."

Giardello, long-time contender from Philadelphia, and Tiger, Nigeria's British Empire 160-pound titleholder, clash in the Wednesday night television feature at Chicago tonight.

"Gene is committed to fighting a leading contender," said Jensen, "and we're going to do that and more. We're grateful to the NBA for getting us the fight with Carmen Basilio (Fullmer stopped Basilio in the 14th round Aug. 28) and the title."

"If Gene keeps busy it will be better for boxing, which sure can use a good lift right now. We have no intention of ducking Webb even though Gene beat him a year ago. Gene and Webb would be a big fight for Salt Lake City but it would have to be outdoors. It could gross a quarter of a million outdoors in Salt Lake City."

"Ron Waller of Los Angeles wants to put on the Moore fight in Los Angeles or Miami in February. That could do a half million or more not counting television or theater-television."

Scottsbluff Golf Course Is Nixed

Scottsbluff (P) — A proposal to build a municipal golf course on municipal airport land was defeated by Scottsbluff voters Tuesday.

The vote was 1,149 to 836. The project was more than half completed when it was halted by a district court injunction last month. Private golfers had put up $8,000 to pay for a sprinkler system on the course.

Northwestern Tops Dunkel; NU Now 49th

Northwestern's historic 45-13 romp over Oklahoma pushed the Wildcats into the No. 1 position in the Dunkel Ratings, with a power index of 114.1.

And Nebraska's 32-12 win at Minnesota upped the Huskers to 49th in the nation with an index of 86.9. Nebraska had an index of 74.6 last week.

Louisiana State is now second after beating TCU, 10-0, for win No. 2. LSU has played opposition indexed at 96.3 and has outscored it by 16.5 points per game for a total rating of 112.8.

Other leaders, their records, and scores of last Saturday are:

Iowa (1-0), 42-12 over California; Army (1-0), 44-8 over Boston College; Notre Dame (1-0), 28-8 over North Carolina; Indiana (1-0), 20-0 over Illinois; Texas (2-0), 26-0 over Maryland; Wisconsin (1-0), 16-14 over Stanford.

Peru State Cheerleaders

Olson Is Only Doubtful NU Starter

By Don Bryant

Don Olson, veteran Nebraska lineman, remains the only doubtful participant against Oregon State Saturday.

Guard LeRoy Zentz and Tackle George Haney returned to limited duty Tuesday.

John Ponseigo, junior letterman, will carry the bulk of the load if Olson is unable to go. Preparing for relief duty are Dale Seimer and Warren Dobry, a sophomore.

Only a smattering of contact work is on the schedule this week.

Daylight—At Last!

The game with Nebraska will be a new experience for Oregon State.

Both of the Beavers games to date have been played at night under the lights—a 27-6 loss to USC, and a 15-14 loss to Texas Tech.

Unknown Quantity

Nebraska's offensive ability still remains an unknown quantity in the opinion of Coach Bill Jennings.

"We didn't score against Texas, and Minnesota made things easier for us," he said. "We still haven't made a long drive for a touchdown."

Big 8 Stats

Iowa State and Missouri are the offensive leaders in the Big 8.

The Cyclones have compiled 716 yards in two games—563 rushing and 153 passing. Missouri has rushed for 341 and passed for 190 and a 531 total.

Nebraska ranks 3rd in rushing offense with 294 yards, and is 4th in total offense with 389 yards.

Individually, Husker Clay White is tied for 5th in rushing with 93 yards, while Don Fricke is tied for 12th with 48.

NU's Tom Kramer is 6th in passing, while Harry Tolly is 10th. Pat Fischer is 8th in pass receiving.

Scouts Out

Nebraska will be scouting two opponents Saturday. Frosh Coach Warren Schmale will chart Indiana (Oct. 17) at Minnesota, while Dick Monroe will watch Kansas (Oct. 10) play Boston U., at Lawrence.

More Buttons

The Extra Point Club will again sell memberships and issue lapel buttons at the Oregon State-Nebraska game, a club spokesman said Tuesday.

Following the Huskers 32-12 win over Minnesota, demands for memberships have increased and more buttons had to be ordered.

It was originally planned to sell EPC memberships only at the Texas game.

Auburn, Oklahoma Missing In Top 10

By The Associated Press

Auburn, a 3-0 victim of Tennessee after 24 games without a loss, and Oklahoma, a victim of a nightclub nightmare, were missing from football's Top 10 Tuesday after the second full week of the 1959 college season.

Oklahoma was rated second to Louisiana State and Auburn 3rd in the first weekly Associated Press poll of sport writers and broadcasters. After a 45-13 loss to Northwestern in a game where the result may or may not have been affected by food poisoning suffered by some Oklahoma players, the Sooners dropped clear out of sight in the balloting.

After the end of college football's longest winning streak in recent years, Auburn skidded from 3rd to 17th place in the ratings. Other teams which dropped out of the Top 10 were Southern Methodist, Wisconsin and Texas Christian. Wisconsin won from Stanford 16-14 but still slipped from 8th to 12th place in the voting.

Replacing these 5 were Iowa, Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, Tennessee and Texas.

Louisiana State, last year's national champion which has won its first two 1959 games unimpressively, retained its No. 1 position by a grudging vote. After a 10-0 victory over Texas Christian, LSU polled only 48 of 86 first place votes and 794 points—far below the previous week's figures.

Nixon Ahead As GOP Nomination Possibility—Seaton

By Don Walton
Vice President Richard Nixon is "now clearly ahead in terms of potential delegates" for the Republican presidential nomination, Interior Secretary Fred Seaton said Tuesday.
The Hastings publisher, one of President Eisenhower's closest advisors and a man who has been prominently mentioned as a possible vice presidential nominee, chatted with newsmen at a 20-minute press conference in Lincoln.
Seaton declined to name the Republican whom he con-

EARLY DECISION ON SALINE WATER PLANT

Interior Secretary Fred Seaton announced Tuesday that a decision on the exact site of the northern Great Plains area saline water conversion plant will be made "within the next 45 days."
Lincoln is one of 6 cities being considered for the demonstration plant.
Field experts will inspect Lincoln Oct. 12. They will also visit the other possible sites at Eureka, Miller and Webster in South Dakota, and the North Dakota communities of Ellendale and Devils Lake.
The Great Plains plant is expected to convert some 250,000 gallons of brackish (intermediate between fresh and salt) water to fresh water per day.

siders to be the strongest presidential candidate or the man who he himself may favor.
A question on the latter drew this reply: "I don't comment on that as a member of the cabinet."
To Take Part In Campaign
However, regardless who the Republican nominee may be, Seaton said he will take an active part in the 1960 presidential campaign.
He is already accepting speaking engagements for campaign time, he said.
As for himself, Seaton pointed out:
"The only thing I am running for in 1960 is home."
Seaton, 49, former two-term Nebraska state senator (1945-

Missouri Basin Power Division To Be Told Soon

The formula and division of Missouri Basin power will be announced within 30 to 45 days, Interior Secretary Fred Seaton said Tuesday.
The formula will determine the amount of power to be made available to Basin states from government-built dams on the Missouri River.
A 3-man committee, including former Sen. Arthur Watkins of Utah; Hatfield Chilson of Colorado, former undersecretary of the interior, and Reul Armstrong of Wyoming, former Interior Department solicitor, has been working on the distribution problem.

49) and a U.S. senator by interim appointment in 1951, said he "assumed" he would be active in Nebraska politics upon his return to the state.
"I seem to have a tendency to get involved in politics," the secretary chuckled.
Not Seeking Office
Asked if that involvement includes plans to seek office, Seaton replied: "No."

His only plans as of now, he said, are to fill out the Eisenhower term as secretary of the interior. He has held that post since May 28, 1956.
"I don't have any Potomac fever," Seaton said. "The best antidote for that is printer's ink in your blood."
On other matters, the secretary said he believes the Khrushchev visit to the U.S.

has resulted in "some progress."
"Based on what I think I know," he pointed out, "his visit was all to the good."
Seaton, who this year has traveled more than 70,000 miles in the U.S. in addition to a 30,000-mile tour of Southeast Asia and Japan, returned to Washington Tuesday.
He'll make speaking appearances in Scottsbluff next Monday, in Chicago Wednesday and at Redfield, S.D., the next day.

Later, he'll be off on a spot inspection tour of Pacific trust territories of the U.S., which include 2,197 islands scattered across 3 million square miles of ocean.
And beyond that is a visit to American Samoa.

Blair House Still Buzzes Over Khrushchev Stay

Washington (UPI) — The Blair House staff was busily preparing for the arrival of another international VIP Tuesday, but it still was talking about the last tenants, the Khrushchevs of Moscow.

With Italian Prime Minister Antonio Segni due to arrive at the presidential guest house Wednesday, the staff was hard at work freshening linens and planning new menus.

But whatever the Italian premier orders from the kitchen, he'll have to go some to beat the 28 Russians who were in residence during Soviet Premier Khrushchev's visit.

According to one veteran of international appetites, the Khrushchev party's food consumption was "unbelievable." He said a standard breakfast for the family was yogurt, oatmeal, melon, fresh fruit, orange juice, fish, steak, bacon, eggs (soft boiled or fried) and heavy brown bread.

All this, he said, was put on the table at once — family style — rather than being served in courses.

The close family feeling among the Khrushchevs was

★ Visit Costly ★ ★ To Taxpayer ★

Washington — The Khrushchev visit to the United States will probably cost U.S. taxpayers around $150,000.

All the bills are not in yet and will not be for several weeks. But officials responsible for such things are sure that the Soviet tour, which set several records for being the biggest, also was the most costly of any visit by a foreign leader.

And probably no one but Roswell Garst has any exact idea of how costly was the damage done to his farm near Coon Rapids, Iowa, when swarms of newsmen tried to keep up with him and Khrushchev.

another thing Blair House regulars will remember. Other memories included the "sweet and kindly" personality of Mrs. Khrushchev; the presence of security agents in what seemed to be every corner; and the two or three hours of sleep which sufficed for some of the Russians.

Distaff Influence

Some of the staff now believe Russia's real secret weapon is Nina Khrushchev, the premier's motherly-looking wife. They said her kindness extended to everyone, from the wives to top diplomats to Blair House maids.

Although Mrs. Khrushchev didn't get to as many American stores as she hoped, the Russians kept the telephone wires humming with orders. Among the bundles for Moscow were dozens of $10.50 men's alligator belts and $11.95 wash-and-wear shirts.

One Khrushchev family acquisition was said to have heckled the head of the household. Two chihuahua dogs, gifts to daughter Rada from the wives of top diplomats, spent the entire time the premier was speaking on television Sunday yipping at the tops of their tiny voices.

Brooks Addresses Demos

Lincoln Star Special

Seward, Neb.—Gov. Ralph Brooks told a meeting of 117 Democrats here Tuesday night that Americans are faced with two situations, "the need to eat and the need to survive."

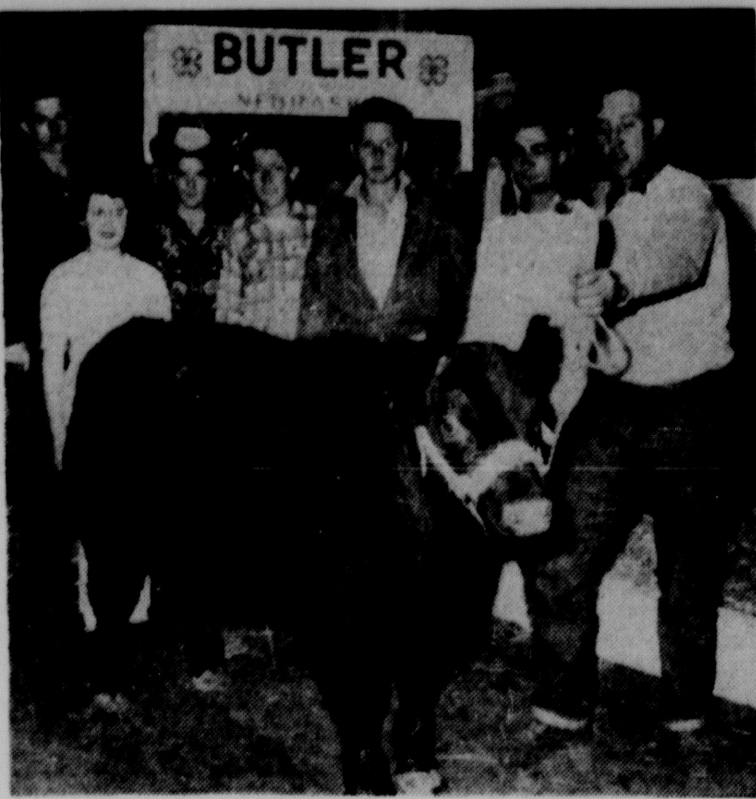

Brooks attacked the Benson administration of the nation's farm program and urged the need for more adequate defense. "We can't expect to achieve the national defense posture necessary solely on the basis of mathematics and science scholarships," the governor said, but must also encourage study of political science, the humanities, history and philosophy.

Robert Conrad, the governor's administrative assistant, told the meeting that in its first 264 days "the Brooks administration has made the GOP ask themselves repeatedly, 'What were our own governors doing' about such state problems as increased revenue through parimutuel betting and interest on state bank deposits.

Conrad stressed that through addition to the tax rolls of almost $1 billion, the Brooks administration "was able to reduce the general fund levy despite an increase in the state budget."

Seward County Democratic Chairman Elmer Steider of Beaver Crossing presided at the meeting. Also speaking was Sen. H. K. Diers of Gresham, and greetings from Congressman Larry Brook were read.

BUTLER 4-H'ERS AT AK-SAR-BEN

Holding the Butler County banner is Don Lavicky of Dwight and County Agent George Garrison of David City. Behind the Shorthorn steer is Bonnie Jakub of Brainard, Chuck Lavicky of Dwight, Bob Codar of Ulysses, Francis Codar of Ulysses, Willis Jakub of Brainard and Eldon Neujahr of Ulysses. The steer's name is "Shifty" and he stood 3rd in the show. The entire club exhibited Shorthorns.

4-H Club Girls Cart Away Top Honors At Ak-Sar-Ben Show

By Glenn Kreuscher Staff Farm Writer

Omaha — Tuesday was a winning day for 4-H club girls at the Ak-Sar-Ben 4-H club show.

The champion Angus steer was shown by Laurel Muge of Claghorn, Iowa. Her winner named "Woody" weighed 970 pounds. In the 1957 show Laurel exhibited a purple ribbon steer and won second in beef showmanship.

The champion Shorthorn steer went to Virginia Carson of Pipestone, Minn. Show officials called the Shorthorn steer show one of the strongest ever held at the Ak-Sar-Ben.

'Shorty' Wins

Reserve Champion steer was shown by Roger Stork, 16, of Blair. Roger calls his winner "Shorty" and this was the second purple ribbon steer he has shown at the Ak-Sar-Ben show in the past 3 years. Reserve champion Shorthorn was shown by John Stephens of Clarinda, Iowa.

There are 983 head of 4-H club bees in the show and the breed winners will compete for the show championship Wednesday evening at 8:30 p.m. Judges for the show are Dr. Don Good and Walter Smith of Kansas State University.

In the sheep sale Tuesday afternoon, the Champion of the show, a Southdown exhibited by Carolyn Cilek of Hays Springs topped the sale at $3.25 per pound selling to Wilson & Co.

Judge Good said, "Most of the 4-H entries have good beef type and there is more uniformity this year compared to some years in the past."

Dr. Lanspa, 57, Dies; NU Grad

David City, Neb. — Word has been received here of the death of Dr. Joseph A. Lanspa, 57, at Roseburg, Ore. He was a native of David City.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine, Dr. Lanspa practiced medicine in Tecumseh until 1955 when he moved to Roseburg where he was chief medical officer at the Veterans Hospital. During World War II, he practiced at Johnson.

Belaunde In Hospital

United Nations, N.Y. — Victor Andres Belaunde of Peru, president of the U.N. General Assembly, is in the hospital for a checkup on a digestive condition, a Peruvian spokesman said. The 75-year-old Belaunde's condition is good, the spokesman said.
